

We have come to party, to nap, and to achieve World Cat Domination.

"You're all the cats! You've got the power," sing Zoltron Monsieur and Kittytron, the feline duo Lion Cut, while a club full of (occasionally pointy-eared) revelers dance and chant in response, giddily waving bright glow-whiskers distributed by the band's cat-costumed dance crew. This is the refrain from their signature anthem "You're all the Cats," and the setting is a Lion Cut gig. Lion Cut creates cat music for party people, or party music for cat people, whichever you prefer. Space travelers from the distant cat planet Leonid, Zoltron and Kittytron discovered Earth while searching the galaxy for Mad Treats, and decided to stay, performing live shows which have earned them genuine cat-cult status for their fierce dance beats, slinky cat-dancing, and festive feline atmosphere. The sound is synth-pop, funk, punk, hip-hop, and disco, all rolled into a big ball of yarn. Zoltron Monsieur (who stands nearly seven feet tall, if you measure to the top of his mane) croons and caterwauls, hypes the crowd, and plays bodacious beats from a drum machine with his nimble paws, while Kittytron growls, yowls, and claws out angular disco and hip-hop scratch riffs on her violin. Lion Cut's goal in their nine lives is not to appear on MTV and the cover of Rolling Stone, but to be on Animal Planet and the cover of Cat Fancy. Lion Cut will bring the party to your stage, your nightclub, your music festival, your television program, or your society luncheon. Lion Cut has shared the stage with the likes of Leslie and the Lys, Gil Mantera's Party Dream, and Quintron and Miss Pussycat. In addition to their live shows, Lion Cut are known for their videos ("Millionaire Falconaire" being the most popular to date), slamming DJ sets, stylish merchandise, and fundraising to help prevent the extinction of wild tigers through sales of their single "Tiger Bomb." For information and booking, please meow at them at:

www.lioncutband.com